The result is that the law is persistently evaded, and the responsibility appears to rest upon no department in particular. The Ordinance regulating the particular abuse here referred to reads as follows :-- 'Every person who shall cast or throw any dead body, ballast, rubbish, or other substance, either from shore or from any vessel, into the waters of the Colony. . . . shall incur a penalty of not more than fifty and premature decay. The smallness of the fine and the leniency of the punishment by imprisonment were also impressed upon the authorities,—with the result that for a short time a few convictions were recorded. Now, what we most particularly mimed at was to prevent this gradual ruin to our the Arabs. noble Harbour, by securing more united and more effective action on the part of the various public Departments concerned This, we are sorry to say, has not been futile. in the smallest degree attained. Upon the most undedbied authority we are assured that the practice or custom of shooting rubbish into the Harbour has been going on steadily for many months past, with very little check or hindrance on the part of the Police, either on land or water. The practice generally is to load up the boats here during the day, then between seven and eight o'clock in the evening to move them to about midstream, towards the western end of the Harbour, and to empty the rubbish in a leisurely way over the aide. If an indignant shipmaster remonstrates with the boatmen, he is simply laughed at for his pains. If the Police by an accident catches one of the offenders, the offence is punished by the Magistrate in a very perfunctory and ineffectual manner. And so this grave abuse goes on Goods per Glencarn undelivered after right merrily, and apparently will go on, we suppose, until the entire Harbour is converted into one huge Praya Reclamation Scheme. THE Alice Memorial Fête opens to-night with everything in its favour. The weather is excellent, and all the arrangements have been carried out in the most satisfactory way. The 'Sporting Lion' and the 'Strutting Phoenix' are both in excellent form, the crocodile is as cheerful as could be expected, the Chinese prize-band has been working up some specialties which will astonish the auditors; the Fine Art Exhibition will be more of a surprise than anybody could possibly imagine beforehand, and in the surgical exhibition under the direction of a local medical celebrity the whole science of surgery will be given away. Leaving a description of the Fête and, it if be the duty of the Water Police till to-morrow we may say in the meantime, judging from a look at the gardens this afternoon, that this promises to be the most brilliant and attractive affair of the kind that has been held here. and when the landableness of the object for which it is being held is taken into account, the Fête ought to draw large crowds of visitors. The Gardens have been profusely hung with Japanese lanterns, festoons of them being carried along both sides of all the walks. On the Fountain Terrace a circle of stalls, presided over by ladies, contain a variety of tempting wares for sale. In addition to choice specimens of art-needle-work, there are innumerable other articles of the useful and ornamental kinds, porcelain ware, pictures, and brica-brac of all kinds, toys, &c. A flower stall and a tea and coffee stall are also among the number. The fountain which is in the centre of this little fancy fair has been adorned with a host of small variegated lamps which must produce a charming effect. On the lower Terrace is the grill-room and bar, where The Only Thomas exercises his benignant sway, rially by such wholesale and unchacked Passing through the fancy fair the visitor is invited on the one hand to walk up there is not a finer Harbour in the world and see the surgical exhibition and on the other hand to be in time for the wonderful performing doll. The terrace above

this boasts the attractions of a marionette

show and Fine Art exhibition. The Chi-things, the Gardens ought to be exceeding.

The master of a boarding house in Second Street was brought before Mr Pollock today for having summarily disposed of the body of a dead lodger by depositing it on the street. The body was that of a middleed condition. It was found lying on the street near defendant's house. The excuse made by the boarding-house master was tory. that he was not able to afford a funeral to deceased, who had left no estate. The case was remanded.

We translate a few extracts from a letter which appeared the other week in Der Ostasiatische Lloyd, giving some information with regard to the present condition of Tonkin. The aspect as seen through German spectacles differs of course considerably from that seen through French spectacles. As we have faithfully recorded the improvements reported in Le Courrier d'Haiphong, other side of the picture as drawn in our to judge of what is true in both. The German correspondent, who dates his letter 8th December, says :- The outlook here for the future is very black. It is not doubted that Governor-General Richard is willing to do good, but the squaring of the budget, even for the ablest financier, will remain for many long years an almost financial future is very great. Now a loan of a hundred millions is to be tried, and an all the branches of the administration that there are not many in this position. Who will stump up the hundred millions is not very clear to anybody yet. The narrow majorities in the Paris Chamber in favour protectorate show the small interest France has in these lands and the small security has projudicially affected the health there is to lenders. Any calamity in the shape of a water or rice famine, a serious, if even for the moment unsuccessful uprising, would suffice to change the small dozen or so of a majority into a minority, and then away would march the French troops and with them their tail of French officials and arm in arm, without much reg et, the few French merchants, who have up till now considered it worth while to give their labour, supported by but small capital, to the opening up of this land. Whatever · commercial undertaking was begun in Tonkin it was always the gold of the taxpaying French bourgeois which kept it alive the very good river service of Messra-Marty and d'Abbadie, almost the only French firm here of which the mercantile enterprise and skill cannot be contested. Well, without Government help, without the white 100-sous pieces of the French villager, in a word without the subsidy of the nothing but a continual struggle against the arbitrary decrees of the Government. TRADE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND CHINA.-From data furnished by the Russian merchants at Kiachta a computation has been officially made of the volume of trade carried on by land between Russia and China. In 188 there were imported into China from Russia 2,353,582 roubles worth of Russian merchandise, 251,914 roubles worth of other European products, 2.924 0 5 roubles of the precious metals, and 309,860 roubles of paper money. In comparison with 1886 those four heads, showed an increase respectively of 50, 18, 28, and 3? per cent. The principal articles of Russian produce were corn, 10gs, refined|sugar, cutton goods, sheepskins, Russian leather, and furs. During the same we think we are almost bound to give the year China exported to Russia 26,456,557 roubles worth of merchandise. The balance of trade leaves 18,617,196 roubles in favour German contemporary, leaving our readers of China. PARIS DAY BY DAY.

Paris, Nov. 25th. To-day Paris was in one of those fits of political fever and excitement which are rather common at this period of the year, when the representatives of the people in Parliament assembled are fresh from their holidays and full of the plots and plans which they have been batching during the recess. quet, President of the Council, and the temporarily-united Boulangists and Bonapartists. The Boulangist Deputies had prepared a coup de théatre for the occasion, and walked about the Salle des Pas Perdus and the Lobbies with mysterious airs before the sitting began. General Boulanger himself was unusually solemu, and took his scat after much whispering and nodding of heads had passed between himself and his satellites. The House was crowded principally by reason of the popular excitement and curiosity which had been caused by the rumour of the so-called plagiarism of Louis Napoléon's Coup d' Etat of the Second of December, 1851, which M. Floquet was said to be about to perpetrate. This affair, as you have already been informed, has been laughed to ridicule by Ministerialists but both General Boulanger and M. The mere rumour of such a thing was, however, sufficient to cause renewed interest in the doings at the Chamber. After the President had taken his seat M. Laisant, a Boulaugist Yes, the former often shield prisoners Deputy, went into the Tribune and made a bold bid for Republican and Radical sympathy by proposing that the remains of Baudin, who was killed on the barricades in December, 1851, should be transferred to the Pantheon. MOORE'S GOGO SHAMPOO WASH.

THIS WASH HAS PROVED ITSELF TO BE THE BEST PREPARATION EVER PRE-SENTED TO THE PUBLIC.

Bases of this compound is made of Gogo Root. The natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; you never see them bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By using this SHAMPOO WASH as directed, you will never be bald. The Proprietor offers the Wash to the public, being entirely confident that by its restorative properties is will surely arrest decaying hair, completely eradicate sourf, dandruff, and cure all diseases of the scalp; it does not contain any spoisonous drugs, but, by its cooling properties allays the itching and fever of the scalp.

Mr. Moone has succeeded in being able to put this Wash up in bottles without allowing it to forment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate. CAMPRELL, MOORE & Co., Ltd., Under Hongkong Hotel.
